What you can do
Dear Friends,

In a small, square, black-and-white photo, a young woman sits on the stoop of a clapboard house, her dark features framed brightly by the white wood of a chipped doorway. It is 1936. She is wearing slacks, and her shirt sleeves are rolled up to her elbows. Her curled brown hair blows to one side of her tilted head; her hands are clasped deliberately over crossed knees. One foot, in a black slip-on shoe, swings in the air; the other, just at the edge of the photo’s frame, rests on dirt ground. She leans a little forward, with a smile pulling on the edges of her lips. Her dark eyes look intently ahead.

This is my Grandmother Chrissie, in the doorway of the Nebraska farmhouse where she grew up, shortly before she will leave to attend nursing school in the big city of Omaha, before she will take her first job as a nurse in the truly big city of Chicago. She is on the threshold of a new beginning, and I see her eyes wondering about the possibilities.

Beyond the borders of that photo, Granny, at age 18, is surrounded by a hardscrabble existence on the Nebraska plains, and that life is surrounded by a very big world. For her to step off that stoop and walk into that world – in a time before cell phones, the Internet, and Skype – took imagination and courage.

I look at that photo every day, and I’m humbled. And I’m inspired – to go to the doorway, look out at the world, wonder, and take a step.

Animals

Dog Training and Behavior
This class will focus on a gentle, positive approach to dog training and to solving behavioral issues with your dog. It begins with strong observation skills as you will learn how to read your dog’s body language. The class also will introduce ways to help your dog feel more calm and confident (and thus behave better!). Bring your dog along with its collar, leash, tags, and current vaccination record. The class is not appropriate for dogs with reactivity/aggression issues towards people or other dogs. The instructor, Clare Swanger, is a certified practitioner of the Tellington TTouch Method ® of dog training.

Tuesday and Thursday • September 10 and 12 • 5:30-7:00 p.m. • Outside at the Community Campus
Tuition: $30

Arts And Crafts

Handmade Holiday Workshop Series
Learn new arts and crafts techniques while planning ahead for the holidays. This series of four classes will focus on making unique, handmade gifts, with easily obtainable materials, for everyone on your list. In each class, you will make a gift that is ready to give, plus, you will take home the skills and inspiration for making more. The instructor, Cassi Griffin, is the creator of “The Crafty Crow,” a popular blog on children’s crafts, and she has created projects for national publications, including Martha Stewart Living and Better Homes and Gardens.

1 – Handmade Holiday: Felted Soap
In this workshop, you will learn the basics of wet-felting while making a felted bar of soap (it’s like a beautiful loofah and a custom bar of soap all-in-one!). Wet-felting is considered one of the most traditional felting methods, and you’ll be amazed at how easily you can create beautiful felted pieces.

Friday • December 6 • 6:00-8:00 p.m. • Room 815 • Tuition: $45 (materials included)

Metal Art: An Introduction to Welding
Step into CSI’s amazing new state-of-the-art mobile welding classroom to learn basic welding techniques and safety procedures. Guided by welding instructor Cody Thornton, you will learn how to grind and cut metal, and you will be introduced to MIG and stick welding. By the end of the three session series, you will have created your own piece of metal art to take home with you. Wear long pants, a long-sleeved shirt, closed-toe shoes, and leather gloves. Other safety gear will be provided, along with materials for the class project.

Business and Nonprofit Development

Bookkeeping with QuickBooks I
If you are a business owner, a beginning bookkeeper, or your own financial manager, this class is for you! Brian Carney, a local CPA, will teach you how to create a company's bookkeeping system from scratch using QuickBooks accounting software. In this introductory level class, you will learn how to build a solid bookkeeping foundation, create a useful chart of accounts, track revenue and expenses, manage a payroll, and more. You also will learn account reconciliation and basic financial reporting using data entered throughout the class. This is a hands-on computer bookkeeping class (held in the computer lab) that includes lecture and discussion.

Section code: XMSC 044 B01
Tuesdays and Thursdays • September 10-26 • 9:00-11:00 a.m. • Room 409 • Tuition: $150

Bookkeeping with QuickBooks II – Advanced
This class is for the person who understands the basics of QuickBooks accounting software and wants a deeper understanding of the more complicated areas of the program. Brian Carney, CPA, will teach you QuickBooks payroll from set-up to reporting, as well as complicated sales tax tracking (LOT), inventory tracking, and progress invoicing. The class will allow time for discussion and problem-solving, so bring your own questions from your personal business and QuickBooks applications. The class meets in the computer lab for hands-on practice.

Section code: XMSC 044 B02
Tuesdays and Thursdays • October 1-10 • 9:00-11:00 a.m. • Room 409 • Tuition: $99

Nonprofit Education Initiative
The Nonprofit Education Initiative enters its second year with an exciting line-up of seminars designed specifically to meet the needs of the Wood River Valley’s vibrant nonprofit sector. See page 11 for details.

For additional information, visit: www.csi.edu/blaine
Sustainable Fundraising
Learn how to build relationships, tell an organization’s story, and raise funds in a sustainable way. This four-session introductory seminar is designed to teach you practical tools and a philosophical framework to raise the funds for an organization’s mission with more effectiveness and ease — whether you currently work for a nonprofit organization or you’re interested in developing a marketable skill set. The instructor, Renata Beguin-Buchli, has international experience in the nonprofit sector; for twelve years, she served as president and managing director for the Swiss affiliate of the Global Hunger Project.

Tuesdays and Thursdays • November 5-14 • 2:00-5:00 p.m. • Room 509 • Tuition: $120

Communication
Amateur Radio
When all other communication channels are stymied, HAM radio endures. Amateur short-wave radio has proved to be vital during power outages, natural disasters, and backcountry emergencies. It also can be a fun way to communicate with people all around the world. Joe Yelda will teach the basics of amateur radio, including how to use and operate different kinds of hand-held radios, how to use the Baldy-Galena repeater system, and how to follow regulations and radio etiquette. This class is open to people who work or volunteer as emergency responders and want to prepare for the FCC licensing exam (to use the airwaves), as well as to people who may not even have a radio, but want to learn about the options.
Section code: XMSC 088 B01
Wednesdays • November 6 and 13 • 6:00-9:00 p.m. • Room 513 • Tuition: $60

Computer Boosters
These two-night computer classes are designed to boost your skills in specific areas, efficiently and enjoyably! Take one class to target a particular need, or take several in a progressive series for more depth.

1 – Excel 1: Basic Spreadsheets
Gain an overview of and practice with Excel’s tools and functions so that you can create a variety of spreadsheets. In this beginning-level, hands-on computer workshop, you will learn how to navigate the Excel 2010 program, enter data, manipulate data, create charts, and more. The instructor is Teresa McGoffin.
Section code: XCMP 199 B01
Tuesday and Thursday • September 17 and 19 • 6:00-8:00 p.m. • Room 409 • Tuition: $45

2 – Excel 2: Shortcuts for Productivity
If you use Excel a little bit and want to do more, this workshop will teach you how to use several time-saving tools, such as auto fill, auto sum, and the format painter tools, as well as how to use styles to make your spreadsheets look visually appealing. The instructor is Teresa McGoffin.
Section code: XCMP 199 B02
Tuesday and Thursday • October 1 and 3 • 6:00-8:00 p.m. • Room 409 • Tuition: $45

3 – Getting to Know Google
This hands-on computer workshop will introduce you to the Google world. First, you will learn how to set up a Gmail account and compose, format, and send email. Then, you will explore other Gmail functions: how to use the calendar to schedule events and reminders; how to “chat” and “hangout;” and how to use “Drive” to share documents with other people. The instructor is Hart Webb, M.S.

I – THE POWER OF A THEORY OF CHANGE

Wednesday, October 16 • 2:00-4:30 p.m.

Does your nonprofit have a clear argument for why it exists? A “theory of change” is a nonprofit’s fundamental building block for creating a strategic direction, measuring its work, garnering support, and creating more impact. Nell Edgington of Social Velocity (Austin) will discuss how to create and implement a theory of change that can drive your organization to greater support, engagement, and success.

II – LINKING MONEY TO MISSION

Wednesday, January 15 • 9:00-11:30 a.m. OR 2:00-4:30 p.m.

Learn how to balance a nonprofit organization’s mission with its financial realities. Nicole Simoneaux and David Greco of the Nonprofit Finance Fund (San Francisco) will first explore the idiosyncrasies of nonprofit economics, including the rules and contradictions inherent to the financial system in which nonprofits operate. Then they will provide instruction on how to read nonprofit financial statements and use that information to drive strategic decisions.

III – CROWD-SOURCING AND CROWD-FUNDING

Wednesday, April 16 • 2:00-4:30 p.m.

How does your nonprofit mobilize people around its mission? Learn about innovative new models for funding social change and building community around your cause. Zeke Spier of the Social Justice Fund Northwest (Seattle) will discuss best practices for crowd-sourcing and crowd-funding within a framework that is focused on promoting authentic engagement between your organization and the community it serves.
